Hi Rusty- it sounds like there are emails today that include Chris, Michal, Janet McCabe, Alison Cassidy and Dan Utech. So I guess we wait for Chris to fill us in on the latest.

Carolyn,

The PETA meeting is still on my calendar for next Monday at 10 am. Happy to chat more about Janet's concerns if needed.

Ok, thanks. I talked to Andrea and Nancy again, it looks like it will likely not go this week so there's more time to work through Janet's concerns. Adding Monica for awareness also.

Have you had any more interactions with Janet on this since this we talked at the 9:30? I will also get in touch with Andrea Drinkard to find out what Janet is thinking about timing. I believe OCSPP is still hoping to get this out before next Monday when they are scheduled to meet with PETA. Rusty, let me know if that has changed.

Thanks!

Carolyn

Good Evening Janet:

Some thoughts in response to your questions, below, and I welcome any additional thoughts from OCSPP. Would be happy to have a conversation tomorrow if that would help. Since OCSPP and ORD are the named partners on this, I would recommend including OCSPP in a conversation, if you feel that one is needed.

Hi Chris and everyone-

Thanks for sharing this updated plan. The work forward seems reasonable to me. I have a couple of questions though.

Janet:

As promised, here is the revised NAMs workplan and the current draft of OPA's press release, for your awareness. Based on our prior discussion, we revised the work plan in a way that more clearly highlights changes compared to the 2020 work plan. These include:

Ex. 5 Deliberative Process (DP)

The workplan has completed IOAA review in OCSPP and ORD. The press release addresses that the next NAMs conference will be in 2022. The target public release date is Monday, Nov 22. The quote from the Administrator is subject to review. Happy to answer any questions.

Best regards,

Michal & Chris

Subject: NAMs Workplan and Press Release to Share with Janet

Hi Chris- below is the draft preview of the press release, to go out on Monday the 22nd, announcing the updated NAMs workplan. OPA has the draft, but I don't believe the Administrator has reviewed the quote yet. Do you want to share this along with the updated workplan with Janet today or tomorrow?
